GED Classes:

The General Educational Development Program is designed for adults whose academic skills are at 9th grade level or above, who have not completed high school, and who wish to earn a GED diploma. Students receive instruction to prepare for the five areas of the GED exam. Each student will receive individualized classroom instruction as well as small and large group class work. Teachers give careful attention to each student's specific needs to achieve their academic goals. Each student is given the opportunity to spend as much time as necessary to learn or review new skills.
