The screenshot shows the ProQuest interface. At the top right, there is a yellow button labeled "Close window". Below it, the ProQuest logo and navigation links are visible. A callout box labeled "Option 1" points to the "Copy link" button in the toolbar. Another callout box labeled "Option 2" points to the "Save" icon in the toolbar. The main content area displays a newspaper clipping titled "New Tribe of Indians Is Approved by Senate" from the New York Times (1857-Current file), dated May 22, 1956. The clipping text reads: "WASHINGTON, May 21 (UP)—The Senate voted today to create a new Indian tribe. It decided unanimously that some 4,000 Indians around Robeson County, N. C., should be known officially as the Lumbee Indians. They are descendants of early English settlers and coastal Indians."

Option 2: Click on  Article image - PDF . Once the PDF opens you can save a copy of the document and then upload the document to your online course. Don't just give students a File Name! It helps them (and the librarians) if you also include the article title.  See Option 2 in the example above.
