Background Checks

BACKGROUND CHECKS

Cape Fear Community College (the "College") is committed to providing a safe and welcoming environment for students, employees and all visitors to the College. Therefore, the College shall conduct background checks on all prospective new employees, volunteers, contractors and current employees as set forth in this policy.

A background check shall be required of all potential College new hires after a conditional job offer has been made. Current employees, both part-time and full-time, contractors and volunteers may be subject to background checks and ongoing monitoring as required to meet business needs of the College. This may require annual re-checks.

The Human Resources Office, under direction of the Vice President of Human Resources, will be responsible for working with a third-party provider to conduct background checks. The Human Resources Office shall secure and store the information obtained separate from the main personnel file and shall consider only information pertinent for decision-making that ensures protection of College students, employees, other visitors, and College assets. Background information will be kept on file for five years.

Previous convictions shall not automatically disqualify an individual from consideration of employment or continued employment with the College. The President and the Vice President of Human Resources will evaluate the following factors in determining whether to hire an applicant with a criminal history and, when necessary, in determining the continued employment or contractual relationship of an employee, contractor or volunteer with a criminal record: the nature of the crime and its relationship to the position; the amount of time since the conviction; the number of convictions; whether hiring the applicant would pose a risk to the College, students, employees or other campus visitors; the actions and activities of the individual since the conviction; explanations or other information provided by the individual; and whether the individual has demonstrated that they have the integrity or honesty to fulfill the duties of the position.

The discovery of either a conviction(s) or falsified conviction(s) information may result in denial of employment or continued employment. If an applicant, contractor, volunteer or an employee fails to reveal previous convictions, then they may be disqualified from employment at Cape Fear Community College for falsification of an application, regardless of when discovered. The applicant, contractor, volunteer or employee will be provided a copy of the criminal record and given an opportunity to review the results of the background check. The applicant, contractor, volunteer or employee will be allowed a reasonable opportunity to dispute the accuracy or completeness of any information contained in the report by contacting the third-party provider that conducted the background check. The College will consider information derived from such opportunity promptly.

The President shall have final authority in determining the employability of the applicant or the continued employment or contractual relationship of an employee, contractor or volunteer. The President shall also be responsible for determining the appropriate background checks required for each position based on specific program agreements, applicable laws or other such position or business requirements.

Definitions of Terms:

“New employees” shall mean all individuals with conditional offers for any position with the College including part-time, full-time, or temporary employment; both instructional and non-instructional. This also includes former employees being rehired who have not been employed by the College in the past twelve months.

“Background checks” shall include information necessary to comply with the business needs of the College. This may include, but not be limited to, information from any of the following: nationwide or state sex offender registries; Department of Corrections Databases; residency history checks; federal records; multi-state criminal indexes; social security number verifications; credit reports; or any other records as required.

Lactation Support Policy

Lactation/Breastfeeding Policy

I. Purpose

As part of our family-friendly policies and benefits, the College supports breastfeeding mothers by accommodating the mother who wishes to express breast milk during her workday when separated from her newborn child. The purpose of this policy is to assist nursing mothers with the transition back to work following the birth of a child by providing lactation support. The provisions of this Lactation/Breastfeeding Policy (the "Policy") meet the requirements of the Fair Labor Standards and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act as they relate to breaks for nursing mothers.

II. Scope

This Policy applies to all temporary and permanent employees who are nursing mothers. For up to one (1) year after the child's birth, any employee who is breastfeeding her child will be provided reasonable break times to express breast milk for the employee's newborn child.

III. Policy

A. Request for Time Off to Express Milk

Nursing employees should provide reasonable notice to their supervisor of the intent to take lactation breaks. Supervisors should attempt to provide as much schedule flexibility and break time as reasonably possible to accommodate the employee's needs. Employees must give notice of breaks to supervisors and are required to provide notice to their supervisor when time for expressing breast milk is no longer required.

B. Reasonable Break Times

1. Any employee who is breastfeeding her child will be provided reasonable break times to express milk for her newborn up to one year after the child's birth. The number of breaks needed to express milk may depend on numerous factors such as the number of feedings and age of the child. A nursing mother will typically need two to three breaks during an eight-hour period; however, more break times may be necessary.
2. Non-exempt employees may take lactation breaks during existing break periods as designated by the employee's department. Lunch breaks may be shortened to account for a morning and an afternoon lactation break (i.e., lunch break can be shortened to 25 minutes or less). If the employee uses time other than a regularly scheduled break time or if the employee's department does not have designated break times, then the employee will be required to either: (1) make up that time during the same work day; (2) use vacation leave; or (3) take leave without pay for that period of time. Non-exempt employees may also arrive at work earlier than the regular starting time or leave later than the regular departure time to account for lactation breaks.

C. Lactation Locations

Lactation locations will be private, shielded from view, and not located in a restroom or common area. If an employee has a private office, it may be used for this purpose.

For a current list of designated lactation locations, employees may contact Human Resources.

D. Storage of Breast Milk

The College is not responsible for the integrity or security of breast milk storage in any refrigerator on campus. Nursing mothers may use campus refrigerators or may bring personal coolers to store breast milk. Any breast milk stored in a campus refrigerator must be labeled with the name of the employee and the date of expressing the breast milk. Any non-conforming products stored in the refrigerator may be disposed of. Employees storing milk in the refrigerator assume all responsibility for the safety of the milk and the risk of harm for any reason, including improper storage, refrigeration and tampering.

Employees must provide their own containers for storage of expressed milk while on campus. Employees should check with supervisors to determine if there is a refrigerator available near their work area where breast milk may be stored. If there is no refrigerator available, employees must provide their own means to store and keep the milk cool, such as a cooler bag or insulated food container.

SGA REPORT

Mr. Nicholas submitted the following report.

Good afternoon, thank you again for welcoming me as a representative of the Cape Fear Community College student body. I am grateful for the opportunity to get to know the members of the board and serve as the representative for my fellow students at all campuses.

The SGA is happy to report that student participation in on-campus events and activities appears to be growing. Recent club and student activities include the Anthropology club's graveyard event, Marine Tech campus clean-up, the Art Club's suicide prevention walk at Wrightsville Beach, Veterans Day, and the Beats Lab Club's event at the Wilson Center. Also, the Mentorship Program sponsored by PTK has successfully matched mentors with students. Furthermore, our SGA board and its members have hosted a Halloween Movie Night (that was well-attended) and we continue to operate our Food Pantry that helps supplement food needs for students and staff. SGA members also worked with the Veterans Club to pick up trash on our section of adopt-a-highway on Martin Luther King Jr. Parkway. And, finally, our Blood drive (One of 2 the college is having) was successful in meeting the goal of 22 units. While the Latin Dance night made a hit as well providing free dance instruction and cultural immersion for our students. As you can attest, we have been busy. But that is the goal.

If you have any questions or would like to know more about any of the recent activities that students are involved in, have questions or concerns, or want to simply chat, please don't hesitate to have a conversation with me. I thank the Trustees and our leadership for their continued support for students at CFCC. This concludes my report. Thank you.
