Broadway Beginnings

Performing Arts Summer Camp presented by Cape Fear Community College and Opera House Theatre Company

Discover new talents and build confidence while exploring musical theatre!

CFCC’s Broadway Beginnings Performing Arts Camp allows students ages 9-13 to build confidence, discover new talents and find their own place in the performing arts.

Come explore all the unique aspects of a Broadway production! Broadway Beginnings campers will learn music and dialogue from musical theatre shows spanning the ages from The Sound of Music to Hamilton! At the end of the week, campers will help build a showcase of scenes and songs for a truly unique production starring them! Camp will conclude with an hour-long performance for family and friends at CFCC’s beautiful Union Station Auditorium on Friday at 11 am.

Campers will not only get experience in the musical theatre staples of singing, dancing, and acting but also exposure to the technical aspects like lighting, costume design, set design/construction and stage management.

This camp will focus on giving students a well-rounded performing arts experience, introducing them to intensive rehearsals, solo, duo and ensemble work, and the thrill of putting together their final performance. Students will participate in daily sessions covering the performance and production material along with ensemble and team-building exercises including theatre games and fun activities.

Dates Available: June 15-19, 2020 (ages 9-11)
June 22-26, 2020 (ages 11-13)
Times: Monday - Thursday 8 am - 3 pm
Friday, 8 am - noon
Location: Wilmington Campus
Registration: $250

On the final day, campers will have the opportunity to perform their work “in the round" for friends and family at the state-of-the-art Union Station auditorium.
